Wall Sconce 42358-W-1 "Art Deco"

The English Glass Arm Family

This typical Art Deco wall sconce was inspired by an original chandelier from the period. From then still we had a supply of shades in stock to restore quite a few chandeliers. Unfortunately each and every single piece was chipped at least once after storage over the lifespan of three generations.

We reasoned to identify those pieces where one half was sufficiently flawless and constructed a mounting. In this way every piece of this series is a single piece and stock is running short.

The cost of reproducing this shade on a satisfying level of quality and technique make this almost irreproducible.
