

MARITIME COLLECTION – VOLUTE BOWL

Celadon

Design: Ted Muehling, 2000

length 20 cm · product no. 10.966

“Porcelain is a temperamental material and mastering it requires both skill and experience,” commented Ted Muehling upon producing his first designs at the manufactory in 2000. At the same time, the multi-award-winning US designer enjoyed the fact that the fragile appearance of the material permitted designs of extraordinary finesse and precision. Today, the result of this productive cooperation can be seen in such masterly pieces as this volute bowl in biscuit porcelain with celadon glaze.
